“In the United States, you can’t walk down the street today without passing someone who is wanted”

National Wants & Warrants Search

THE TOTAL INCARCERATION RATE HAS MORE THAN TRIPLED SINCE 1980. Today, there are over 700,000 parolees in the United States and over 3.6 million probationers. ScreeningOne now makes it simple to search nationwide and internationally for any outstanding felony wants and warrants issued by law enforcement agencies.

A warrant is a judicial writ authorizing an officer to make a search, a seizure or an arrest.

The types of warrants in the ScreeningOne database range from misdemeanor warrants for bad checks, traffic violations, failures to appear, unpaid fines, to felony warrants for parole or probation violations, robbery, rape, forgery, kidnapping or murder.
